

Civic Action

A monthly update from the National Civic League

August, 2015

New All-America City Award Video

The All-America City Award event is an opportunity to be inspired and invigorated. It can be hard to capture the energy, excitement and passion of the event - so this year we decided to create a video that captures the joy and power of the All-America City Award. Please take a minute to watch the video below - and share it with others.

The All-America City Experience

Apply for the 2016 All-America City Award

NCL is proud to announce that the 2016 All-America City Award will recognize community efforts to ensure that all children are healthy and supported in school and life. Our goal is to raise up examples of innovative and effective community problem-solving that recognizes all the factors that influence the success of children and uses all sectors to address those factors.

We have created a single page with everything you need to apply in 2016: get all the important dates and details, download an application, access key resources, and sign up for monthly learning calls with previous winners to find

In This Issue

All-America City Video

Apply for AAC 2016

2015 Finalist Videos

Get a Free Article

Monthly AAC Support & Learning Calls

Talk to 2015 All-America City winners about their innovative projects, why they applied, and get useful, practical advice about applying for AAC.

Sept. 14, 11a-12pm MT

Register for the September call

Quick Links

National Civic League

All-America City Award

Apply for AAC 2016

Become a member

out how to apply and win!

2015 All-America City Finalist Presentation Videos

Now available on the National Civic League's Youtube page- video of each of the 2015 All-America City Finalists' presentations. For participants this is a chance to relive that moment, for others a chance to learn about their incredible efforts and ideas for how to tell the story of your own work.

National Civic Review - Get A Free Article

For more than 100 years, the National Civic Review has been at the forefront of research and insight into civic leadership and governance. The quarterly journal brings together essays, reports, case studies, and interviews focused on civic life, local governance and community engagement.

This month, we're sharing an article from the Summer 2015 issue, by Dr. David Mathews, President and CEO of the Kettering Foundation. In his article, Putting the Public Back into Public Education: An Old-Fashioned Remedy for a Troubled Relationship, he writes about the need for schools and communities to change the ways they relate to one another. This article is just one example of the incredible research, ideas and insights available in every issue of the National Civic Review. Members of the National Civic League receive four issues of the National Civic Review and access to dozens and dozens of thought-provoking articles. Become a member today!

National Civic League | 303-571-4343 | aac@ncl.org | 6000 East Evans Avenue
Suite 3-012
Denver, CO 80206

Social Media

